DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

At the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Kent, in Elmville, Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Miss Olive Louise Kent became the bride of Floyd Nettleton, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Nettleton of Central Village. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. J. T. Edwards, pastor of the Danielson Baptist church, under an arch of greenery fashioned in the parlor of the Kent home. The groom and his best man, George Kent, brother of the bride, awaited the bride-elect and her matron of honor, Mrs. George Kent, a tithing dais, as they entered the parlor through the dining room. The wedding march was played by Miss Marion Wood.

The bride wore a gown of embroidered silk cloth with an embroidered overskirt and her veil was caught with a spray of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of white carnations. The matron of honor wore pink organdy. Following the marriage there was a reception, Mr. and Mrs. Kent and Mr. and Mrs. Nettleton, parents of the bride and groom, respectively, assisting them in receiving. The home was attractively decorated, green and white and red and white combinations being effectively used in different rooms. Following the reception, refreshments were served to the guests, who represented a number of towns and cities in southern New England, in addition to all parts of the town of Killingly.

Mr. and Mrs. Nettleton, who are on their wedding trip, will visit at Northampton, Springfield, Providence, and Worcester before returning home two weeks hence. For the remainder of the winter they will make their home with Mr. and Mrs. Kent. The bride is a graduate of Killingly High school, class of 1914, a member of the Danielson Girls' club, and has been prominent in many social activities. Mr. Nettleton, who is now employed at Buckland, Conn., served in the war as a member of the coast artillery command that went out from Danielson and saw hard, active service overseas. The marriage was on the first anniversary of his return to Danielson from France, he having arrived here Jan. 30 of last year.

The bride received many beautiful gifts of varied nature, all of which will find places in her home and be a source of pleasant memories.

Tonight, Collins Singing orchestra of Marlboro' Promenade hall, Jewett City, Danvers, N. H., will give a concert. Included in the development plans for industrial place as planned for this year by the Connecticut Mills company, which has purchased the Danielson Cotton company property, is the erection of an auditorium in which theatrical events may be staged, motion pictures exhibited and a deep cut in a community nature held and an town at which comfortable and cheerful surroundings will be provided for many who come to Danielson to transact business with the big concern. Also during 1920 there will be the erection of many more dwellings and apartments.

All of this is taken to indicate that this exceedingly successful company is in the full flush of its development period and that what it has already done to make Danielson the most rapidly growing town in eastern Connecticut is but a prelude to the expansion that is to come within the next two or three years.

At his home on Carter street Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, services for J. Alfred Puize were conducted by Rev. Walter B. Williams, pastor of the Westfield Congregational church, and were attended by relatives and friends of Mr. Puize. Hymns during the service were sung by Mrs. E. Alton Probst, son of Mr. Puize, and a quartet. The funeral director, as a mark of respect to Mr. Puize, who had been identified with the business interest of Danielson for so many years, business was suspended in the borough from 2 to 3 o'clock.

Reports rendered at the annual meeting of the Westfield cemetery association show that the trust funds for the perpetual care of lots have increased materially during the past year, but a decrease in the general fund. The high cost of labor and the advance in costs connected with all upkeep departments of the cemetery is held accountable for the falling off in the total of the general fund, which, however, remains of liberal amount.

Looms are being transferred from the plant of the Danielson Cotton company to the new addition erected by the River Weaving company at the head of Water street. F. E. Cunniff of the River Weaving company stated Thursday that shutting which is lost in transit is expected here within a day or two and that upon its arrival it is expected that the new looms in the plant will be running next week. The River Weaving company has large orders on hand, sufficient to keep the mill busy for many months to come.

Another link that will weld more closely to Danielson all of the villages of the town of Killingly will be formed when a plan for establishing regular bus service between the borough and Hallowville and Pineville is worked out. The matter has been taken up by C. H. Pellett by Agent Clarence Truesdell of the Attawaugan company. What many have called the "ghost" isolation of these two villages of the town will be removed when the buses begin to furnish them service and they will feel their natural trading center.

PUTNAM

Over 1000 shares of the ninth series of the Putnam Building and Loan association had been sold up to Thursday afternoon.

Oh, My Dear, the big musical show, attracted a large audience to the Bradley theatre Thursday evening. Temperatures of from 6 to 10 below zero were reported here Thursday morning. Observers claim that there was a drop of nearly 12 degrees between 4 and 6 A. M.

Mrs. Charles Ray of Brooklyn is slowly improving at the Day Kimball hospital, although she is not regarded as out of danger. Mrs. Ray is not yet fully conscious, though it will be two weeks tomorrow since she was attacked by Victor Lipponen the murderer of Dewitt Peal of Abington, was electrocuted Thursday evening at Sing Sing prison in New York state. Hamby killed Henry Cooch in December 13, 1918. Hamby had proved to be one of the most unusual criminals with which New York authorities have had to deal. A long time ago the last he is said to have been exceedingly cool and collected. Hamby has always refused to tell anything pertaining to his family history or of his youthful days, claiming that he did not want his people to suffer through his disgrace. Up to Thursday morning Hamby had declined to accept a clergyman of any faith and apparently did not want to discuss religion.

Announcement was made of a gift to the Methodist church of $50 from a friend of the church. The money will be added to a fund to be used to pay the cost of decorating the church.

There is to be a short calendar session of the Windham County Superior court in this city next Monday afternoon. Judge Kellogg presiding. Some uncontested divorces will be listed for trial and a list of motions.

Health Officer Peter Gardner reported that a number of cases of grip exist in this city. Up to Thursday afternoon no cases of influenza had been reported in this territory.

The Stewardship of Life will be the first in a series of sermons to be delivered at the Baptist church by Rev. George C. S. McKay, this sermon at the Sunday services.

The next two days have made difficulties for many automobile drivers. At one time on a recent morning four cars were stalled between this city and the Killingly line, one of them a big truck that had its front end against a fence after plunging out of the road. Deep ruts in the deep snow have been responsible for the troubles the drivers have had in handling machines.

State Attorney and Mrs. Charles E. Searls are at Camden, S. C., to remain for several weeks.

Rev. J. J. Elty, pastor of Holy Trinity church, at Pomfret, is recovering from an attack of neuritis that has kept him confined to his home.

Boards of relief in nearly all the surrounding towns have given notice that they are to begin their meetings next week. As there has been a general revaluation of property in most towns of this advance of assessments the members of the boards of relief will very likely have busier meetings this year than usually is the case.

Dr. Frank Wheaton of Bellingham, Wash., is on his way home after spending some time in Putnam, where his father, Edgar M. Wheaton, died a few days ago.

Next week will bring the meeting of the Putnam Cemetery association. There will be special interest in the action the association may take toward building the chapel, in Grove Street cemetery, that is provided for through a bequest by Mrs. Harriet Tourtellotte, but it is said, it is possible the chapel may not be built under conditions for construction work are more favorably as cost.

Automobiles who have traveled with their cars this week in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut say that the roads in this state are in much better condition than are the highways in the adjoining states.

There will be a big motor truck operating between this city and Fall River said Thursday that it seemed like getting into heaven when the Connecticut line was reached, east of this city.

Wednesday's Middletown Press said: At the Congregational church at Westfield this afternoon at 4 o'clock when Miss Lida C. Clement was united in marriage with Frank W. Barber, superintendent of the town schools of Middletown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. J. Elty.

that a transportation need that long has been a dream will be at least partly realized.

The purpose at first is to furnish a regular service on certain evenings each week and Sunday afternoon, later extending the service as the needs of the territory to be opened up warrant. The route will be along the trolley line and the people who live in these places will appreciate, as have the people of Attawaugan during the past few months, what a big regular transportation service is. The villages of Attawaugan, Ballowville and Pineville have been mainstays of Killingly's prosperity for a half century, during good times and bad, and it will be hailed as good news all around that something is finally being done to put them in close touch with their natural trading center.

Mrs. George Crocker of Providence is visiting with Mrs. Ethel Spalding of Academy street.

Edward Hatch, who has been with the Freeman-Church company at Hartford, has come to Danielson and entered the employ of the Church company.

Six below zero again Thursday morning—a regular performance for January of 1920.

Manager W. E. Keach of the Connecticut Mills team has booked the fast Taffy team for Saturday evening's game in Danielson.

Alfred L. Reed was in Willimantic Thursday on business.

No cars came through over the trolley line from Providence until nearly noon Thursday. Ice on the rails and other difficulties due to the inclement weather were blamed for tying up the line.

The Chassey market in the Rev-stone building has been sold by Joseph Bodo.

Nasty Colds Ease at Once

First dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" relieves distress—Three doses break up colds—No quinine!

Don't stay stuffed up! Quit blowing and snuffling! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken usually breaks up a cold and ends all grumpy misery. The first dose opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages of head; stops nose running; relieves headache, dullness, feverishness, sneezing, soreness, stiffness.

"Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance. Tastes nice. Contains no quinine. Insist on Pape's
